Past Exhibitors Share Their Thoughts...

“This is the most applicable meeting for someone who runs a core facility, I wouldn’t miss it!”

“ABRF is about the right size meeting of core facility operators, scientists and vendors that allows more effective networking and exchange of ideas. For vendors, ABRF is also a great platform to not only hear some of the insightful findings from the various research groups but also the challenges and bottlenecks faced by the facilities which help the vendors to drive product design.”
